Dec. 27, 1952-April 30, 1968

Brief were my days among you, and briefer still the words I have spoken.

But should my voice fade in your ears, and my love vanish in your memory, then I will come again.

And with a richer heart and lips more yielding to the spirit will I speak.

Yea, I shall return with the tide.

And though death may hide me, and the greater silence enfold me, yet again will I seek your understanding.

And not in vain will I seek.

If aught I have said is truth, that truth shall reveal itself in a dearer voice, and in words more kin to your thoughts.

— Kahlil Gibran

GLOUCESTER VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

PRINT SHOP

Under the direction of Mr. Harvel R. Vail, the boys in the print shop are taught the basic fundamentals of the printing industry, including hand and machine set composition, the operation of hand-fed and automatic platen presses, automatic cylinder presses, and offset presses. Bindery and stock-cutting procedures are also included in the course.

The related classroom work consists of layout and design, printers' mathematics, and trade science. Upon graduation, the student may expect to be placed in the industry.

CARPENTRY SHOP

The students in the carpentry shop are instructed in the skills of woodworking and in the proper use of machines and materials involved in the trade. Framing, stair building, inside and outside finishing are also included in the shop work.

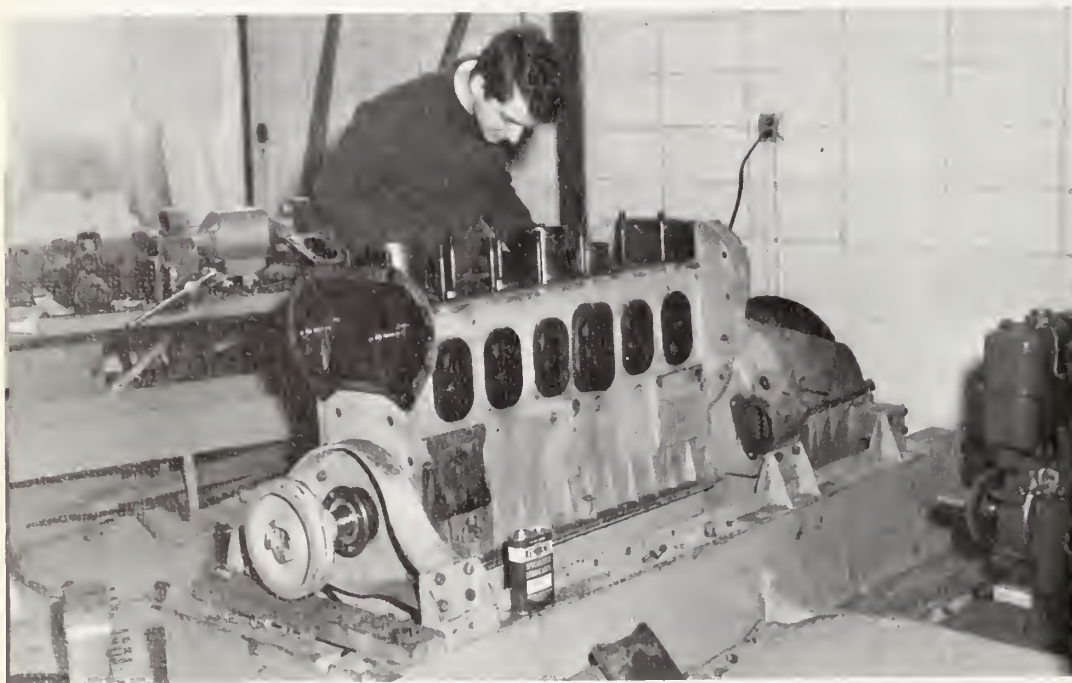

The related classwork includes the study of small house plans and construction details, and the estimating and purchasing of materials. The graduates of the carpentry shop are able to successfully handle most carpentry jobs.

FISHERIES SHOP

The fishing industry is the oldest means of employment in Gloucester. Under the direction of Mr. Carlo Sinagra, the boys are taught marine technology, the fundamentals in the operation and maintenance of diesels, seamanship, navigation, and the construction of nets.

Related classes consist of the study of modern seamanship, general related mathematics, boat construction, the history of the sea, and the latest developments in the fishing industry. Upon graduation, the students are ready for positions such as mates and engineers.

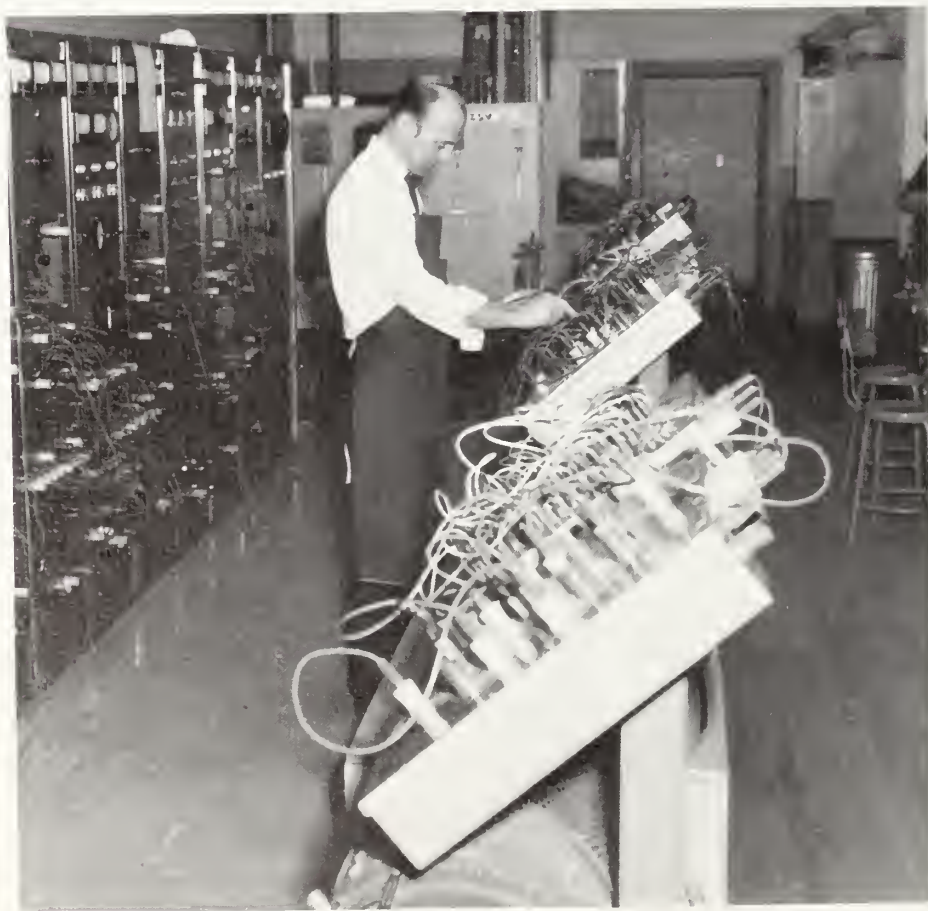

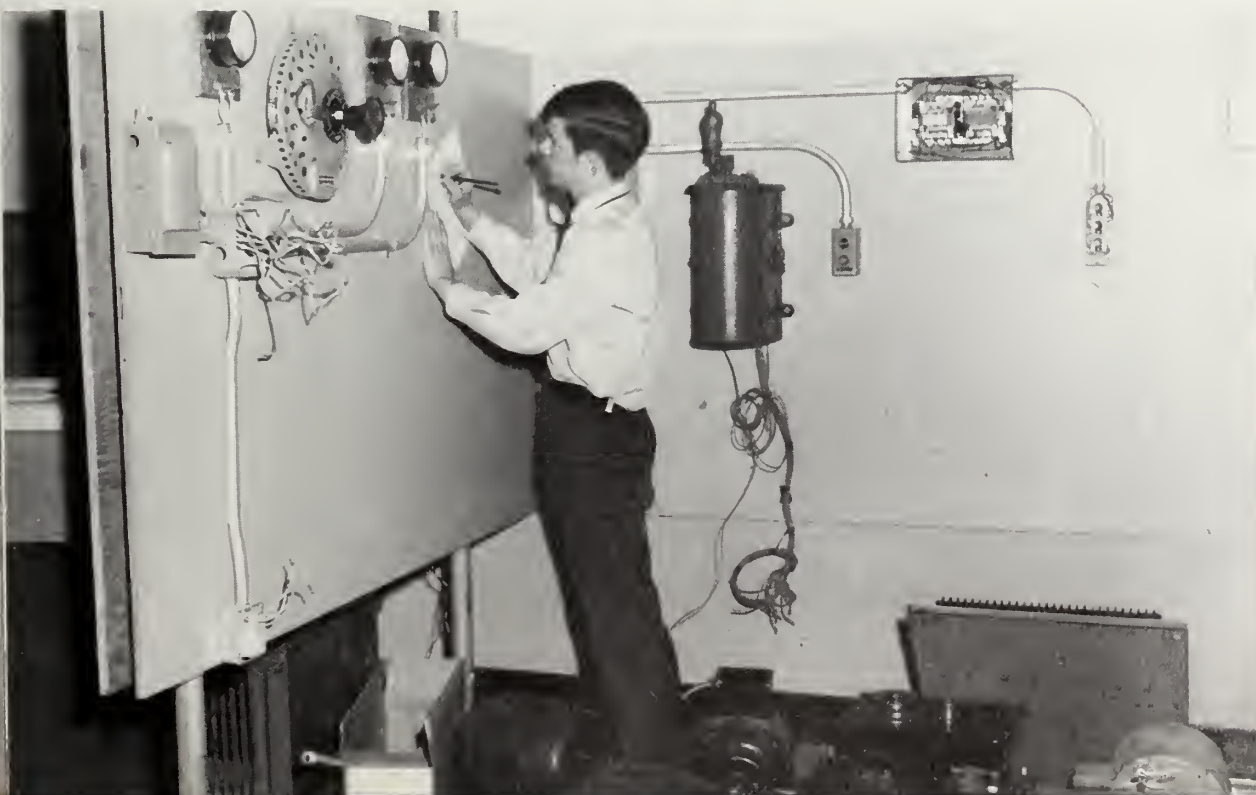

ELECTRICAL SHOP

The pupils of the electrical shop, under the direction of Mr. Roy Spittle, learn methods of house and industrial wiring, signal and telephone work, and the testing, repairing, and rewinding of motors and generators.

The classroom courses provide sound training in the study of many types of electrical circuits, magnetism, and induction, methods of electrical measurements, direct and indirect currents, elementary electronics, and the standards of the National Electrical Code.

AUTOMOTIVE SHOP

Opportunities for employment in the automotive repair field are plentiful. The boys in the automotive shop are given valuable training in this field under the direction of Mr. John Budrow. The course includes repairing transmissions, clutches, brakes, wheel alignment, and general repair work on "live" automobiles. The many phases of a motor are thoroughly covered in the related classroom work.

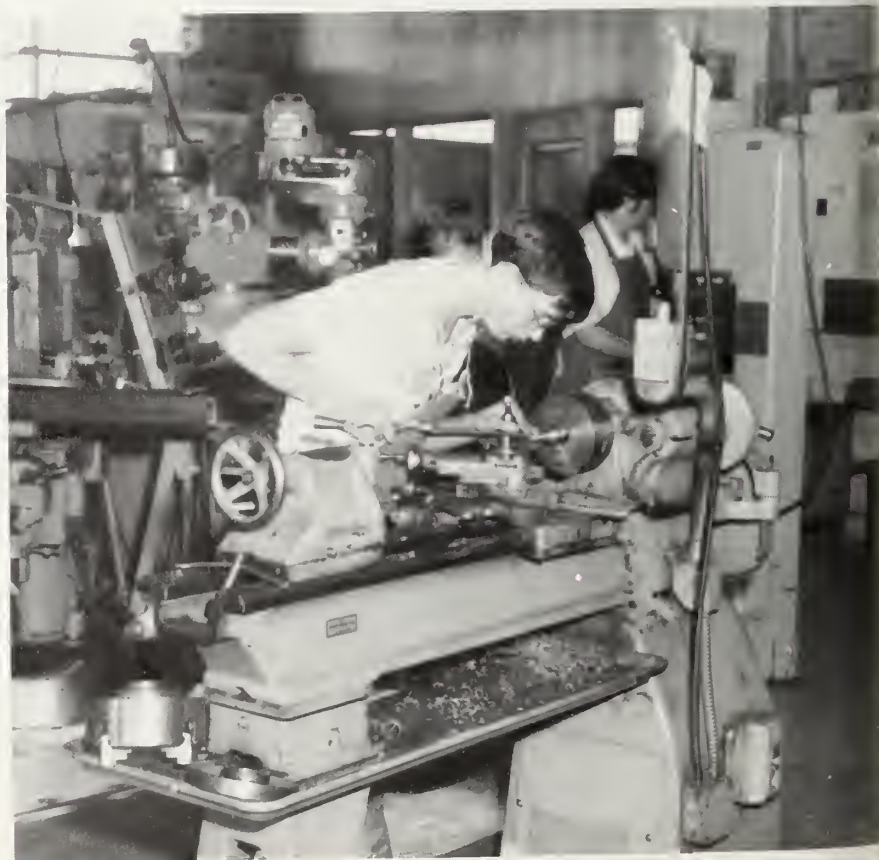

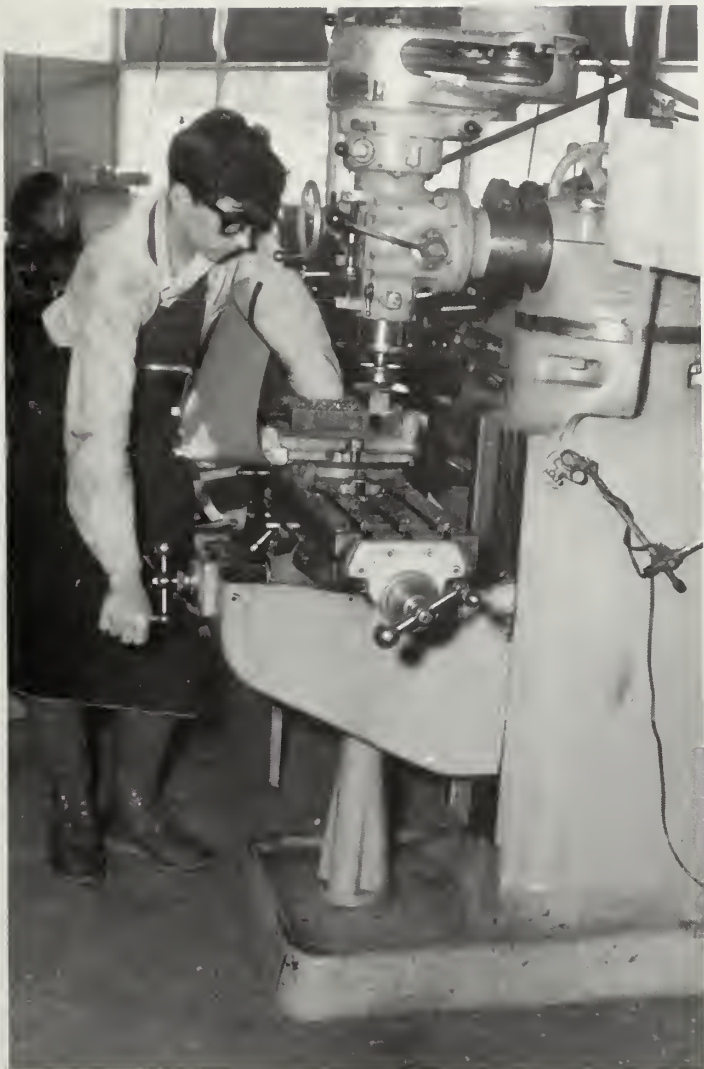

MACHINE SHOP

The boys of the machine shop, under the instruction of Mr. Horace Gibran, are taught to run machines such as lathes, millers, grinders, shapers, planers, and drill presses.

The related course includes theory behind the machines, their uses, and the work they do. The students also learn mathematics concerning problems they will face in industry and how to read blueprints. After the completion of this course, many students seek employment at such places as United Shoe, Sylvania Co., and General Electric.

OUTSTANDING TEENAGERS OF AMERICA:

Deborah Cushing, Eleanor McGrath, Barrett Pett

It was September, 1969, the students were restless; the faculty, worried. As tensions rose, Pres. John Beaudette called a closed meeting in the GHS auditorium. The dress code, once again, was the issue. With the full support of the student body, the Council successfully presented our case to the Administration, and the dress code was abolished.

Early in November National Honor Society members were seen scurrying in and out of Miss Perry's English office carrying strange looking parcels. Had the club finally invented the bigger and better candy bar? What would happen at the regular monthly meeting? It wasn't a tea they were preparing for, but an exciting auction.

Being a mascot is hard work! I've been flying around this school for years, and not once has anybody even opened a door for me. At least the kids on the BEACON appreciate me. Every issue I get a nice two-page spread; and those poems positively inspirational — not to mention the prose and artwork . . .

CLASS CALENDAR

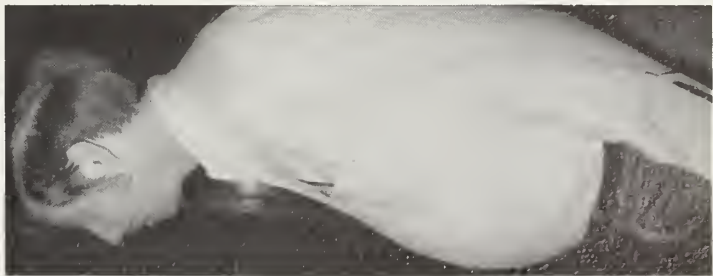

SEPTEMBER

	1	2	3	The seniors toast in the year at Wingaersheek Beach.	5	6
7	8	School closes early so Skip Grinnell can throw a party.	Mary Ann Nickerson finally sees a guidance counselor. Been there since Thursday.	T. R. offers Lindsay Brown a carry to class.	Dana Barratt tries to stop Batman Lovett from flying off the wrong cliff.	Holy Schlitz!
Ellen Sovia sees Romeo and Juliet for 12th time.	15	Mr. Natti orders — "stay off the grass." Does that mean smoke instead?	17	Mr. Kleinmann is seen walking through halls with sign "Coffee, tea, or me." Students forced to take him.	Deb Marchant and Dianne Bedard hustled more than the football team.	20
21	22	Mr. Karcher gives Ellen Holland and Denise Bouchie kisses. (Candy)	Yvette Lumbard didn't wear her raincoat. (Good girl, Yvette)	Candy Brown finds a new rival — Greg Smith. (Sorry, Bill.)	26	We lost. Some Victory Dance!
28	Mrs. Wardrup washes her glasses with Windex.	Dress code meeting — no babysitters needed.

OCTOBER

				1	2	3
5	Charlie Borge gets nervous and can't control herself.	Nicky is still in guidance office.	8	9	Chris Guittar comes back from Peanut Hill.	11
12		Mr. Rollettes, our Student Council president, is recognized. Victory!	15	Keep America Beautiful — Show your legs.	Sharon Feener is complimented on her femininity.	18
19	Sharon Burke doesn't want to "Ca-moot" to school. Neither do we!	Miss Perry permits students to auction off only services renderable.	21	Karen Berkman throws her first snowball.	Bob Bradford and Denise Hebert play dress-up.	WE WON!
26		Then came "Easy Rider" Garcia and his side kick There-sa.	29	30	Hiya hiya muck a hiya.

NOVEMBER

St. Peter's	Sold	???				I
2	3	Clique and Westend get together. "Oh my God, Sammy."	5	6	Nancy Crowningshield does an ad for "Innocent Color."	Is it true blondes have more fun?
Karen Greeley snores "clam, clam, clam, clam . . ."			11	12	Bobby Hubbard with the expandable stomach runs his sample through the mill again.	Audrey Dunphy takes a right at the first left.
Bill Crossen spends all his time at the cinema.		Nicky still in guidance office.	19		Sue Barratt achieves her goal — dressing in the boy's dressing room.	Just what is so special about Alan Alexander's underwear?
Adolph goes skinny dipping.	30	Tina Psalides gets a bird's eye view of Maureen Cressey's knee.	Although a disappointing season . . .	Jane Wood makes it . . . to the game.	Robin makes a second unsuccessful attempt. Tennis anyone?	29
